Speaker: Olivia Odileke

Bio (Short)

Olivia Odileke is an educator, author of "Unleashing Curiosity," and founder of both Kampus Insights and Fearless Educator Radio. After training thousands of educators, she created the first music platform specifically designed for teachers, leaders, and students.

Bio (Long)

Olivia Odileke has dedicated her career to empowering educators through innovative approaches to teaching and learning. As the founder of Kampus Insights and author of "Unleashing Curiosity," she has trained thousands of teachers and educational leaders worldwide.

Recognizing a gap in resources that truly understand the educator experience, Olivia created Fearless Educator Radio—the first music platform designed specifically for teachers, educational leaders, and students. Using AI-powered music creation combined with deep educator insight, she developed 30 original songs that address real challenges like burnout, difficult days, and reconnecting with purpose.

Her work focuses on curiosity, wonder, authenticity, and helping educators rediscover the deeper meaning of teaching and learning.
